

Lead Safety for Renovation, Repair, and Painting

October 2011

1-7

Contractor discusses how lead safe work practices could have protected his kids from becoming lead poisoned.

The video shown at this point in the course is of Kevin Sheehan, a lead contractor, who discusses how he poisoned his family while working on older houses which contained lead-based paint. Kevin discusses the need for lead safety precautions during renovation work, shares the lessons he has learned, and reveals what can be done to keep people safe during work in older homes with lead-based paint.